

Vision in Panama City

I was standing in Panama city, and I saw a great figure, towering over the landscape - a beautiful figure, which I felt was Jesus.

He was pointing to the North, the South, the East and the West.

The vision faded, but then came back again. I saw Jesus, towering over Panama, and thousands of hands reaching up to him from all over Central America, and many voices crying out in joy. Then he spoke:-

“Look to the North, the South, the East and the West.

What do you see?”

Clouds.

“The clouds are breaking.

My glory is beginning to shine.

But there is still far to go.

Much to be done before I can reveal my fullness.

You, my servant, must proclaim “Glory, Glory! Glory!

Then my people can begin to see their poverty, and I will come to them, instruct them, and release myself fully to them.”

Panama

You think you are big, but you are not.

Only I am big, the great ‘I am.’

From everlasting to everlasting

I never sleep, and my days have no end.

I hold out my hands to you.

Put all that you have into my hands, and you will be safe and protected in all that is to come.

Troubles lay ahead.

Trust me now, while there is still time.
